

Department of Music
Tripura University

 Programme: PhD COURSE WORK

Programme Specific Outcome:

After obtaining this degree Students can be benefited in the following ways:

1. Enhance knowledge in Research Methodology & Computer Application, Understanding different styles of Music including Indian Music.
2. Develop skill in regard to performance, Demonstration, Compositions etc.
3. To connect with the Musical community and society at large through effective performance and demonstrations.
4. Lay foundation for musical research.

Paper- I

Course Name	L	T	P	C
<hr/>
Research Methodology & Computer Application
Research Methodology:-
1. Objectives of Research
2. Types of Research and Research Process, Techniques of research, How to collect information
3. Scope and significance of Research.
4. Selection of Research
Problem. Techniques:-
1. Sources of Information
2. Use of Card.
3. Note Card.
4. Questionnaire.
5. Foot Notes.
6. Bibliography
7. Reference
8. Documentation
(Field Work, Collection of Textual Data, Interview)
9. Computer Application:-Basic of Computer application,
10. Use of Word Processing, Software typing, Printing, Page making, Composing, Scanning, digital Data and management.

Course Outcome:-

1. Enhance knowledge of research methods
2. Develop skill of Computer use.
3. Lay foundation for advance Musical research.

Paper - II

Course Name:-Advanced Musicology

L T P C

1. Origin and development of Vocal and Instrumental Music.
2. Origin and development of musicological text(Ancient, medieval and modern).
3. Knowledge of different vocal, instrumentalGharana.
4. Detail knowledge of own discipline and fewother recognized disciplines.
5. Knowledge of musicology and rudiments forInstrumental and Percussion Music.

Course Outcome:-

1. Enhance advanced knowledge of musicology
2. Enhance knowledge of different traditions and styles of Vocal and instrumental Music.
3. Gather knowledge on different disciplines of music

