■ NEC Report

Agartala, Dec 9 : Department of Business Management, Tripura University celebrated their induction program 'PRARAMBH-2020' on 8th December 2020 (Tuesday) meant for the newly inducted students in AICTE approved MBA and BBA programs offered by the department. The fifth consecutive celebration of 'PRARAMBH-2020' was hosted in an online mode due to the outbreak of COVID-19.

Dr. Manish Das, Assistant Professor and the emcee of the programme explained that 'PRARAMBH' is a precisely crafted induction program of the department to acquaint newly inducted DoBM family members with the existing members of the family formally. Further, it strives to familiarise the newly admitted students with the top administrative positions of the university through interaction and exchange of thoughts and ideas. Students are sensitized to university rules, regulations, norms, and codes of conduct.

Prof. Ganga Prasad Prasain, the vice-chancellor of the university, presided over the program as chief guest attended by above 100 participants. The program kick-started with Saraswati Vandana and an inaugural song performed by MBA 3rd semester student Smt. Namrata Debbarma, followed by some experience sharing sessions by the new inductees of both MBA and BBA 1st semester. The experience sharing session was followed by the address of Smt. Anjana Kalai and Dr. Mahasweta Saha, Assistant professors of the department. The students acclaimed the efforts of the department for amalgaming them with the latest industry practices by bringing top corporates during their induction classes. Following that, the Head of the Department Dr. Debarshi Mukherjee shared his thoughts with the new inductees while stressing on 3C's: creative, confident, and compassionate to become successful in future endeavours. Subsequently, Vice-Chancellor of Tripura University Prof. Ganga Prasad Prasain delivered his address. In his interaction, Prof. Prasain motivated the students to be an entrepreneur rather than a job seeker. He highlighted the role of the management students in shaping the industrial economy of Tripura, by effective utilization of local resources. The program was concluded while delivering the vote of thanks by Dr. Nirmalya Debnath, Assistant Professor of the department.
